

Snapshot of Australia and New Zealand’s emission reduction and renewable energy targets

Country	Achieve net zero	Reduction targets	Renewable energy targets
Australia	2050	43% reduction by 2030 (based on 2005 levels)	82% by 2030
New Zealand	2050 (other than biogenic methane)	50% reduction by 2030 (based on 2005 levels) In relation to biogenic methane emissions: 10% reduction by 2030, 24-47% reduction by 2050 (based on 2017 biogenic methane emissions)	50% by 2035 100% by 2030 (aspirational)

More information:

- Emissions Reduction in Australia
- NZ Greenhouse Gas Emissions Targets and Reporting

